This week at School

What another great busy week at Cathcart Street. The weather may have been miserable at times but we have been having a great week settling into our classes and doing some fantastic learning! We all looked so smart for our school photographs this week too.

Our fantastic Year 5's had a great week swimming - well done!

Our after school clubs started this week and have been really successful so well done to everyone for joining in with these.

Many thank for your continued support.
